Program for October 2011 - Art Rummage Sale!

Our meeting program for October will be something different; a members-only rummage sale of art supplies provided by ANA members. This is the time to clear out that closet or storeroom of those art-related items you no longer need.

If you have nothing to sell, you're sure to find some bargains on used art supplies, and your purchases will benefit the ANA, helping to fund all our exhibits and programs, as well as art scholarships!

The sale will take place in our regular meeting place at the Arts Center of the Ozarks.

Eighth Annual ART IN THE PARK

Saturday, October 22nd from 9 AM til 2 PM. - Rain or Shine!

On Saturday morning, artists will be able to register at the ANA Sales Tent near the North Entrance of Wilson Park.

Participants must be current members of ANA. Artists are expected to demonstrate their art during the event. All sales will be processed by the ANA volunteers at our Sales Tent. Sales tax will be added and twenty per cent commission will be split between ANA and the Parks Department.

September Meeting - Timothy Tyler

by Timothy Jones

Tim Tyler is a realist painter known and admired well beyond the Northwest Arkansas area. His work is exhibited in galleries and museums around the United States and abroad. He put on a still life painting demonstration for us at our September meeting that kept ANA members' close attention throughout.

Tim painted a very simple set-up of 4 red apples, and to capture the full range of their color, he began by painting over a deep red toned ground that he had laid in ahead of time. Reds being generally more transparent pigments, this red ground made it unnecessary to lay on thick layers of paint in order to capture the rich reds of the apples. He noted that it is helpful to have the same light source on both the artist's canvas and the subject being painted. Different light sources can cause color difficulties.

The painting developed very rapidly as Tim confidently established the basic forms of the apples early on in the process. He began by quickly laying in large shapes and relationships, which were refined as the painting progressed. The area around the apples was painted in a neutral gray, but with subtle variations and some cast shadows that made the apples sit convincingly in the space.

Tim emphasized the importance of edges, value and color temperature in making objects recede or advance in the space. He began to pick out deeper shadows and subtle reflected light that further tied the apples to the space and to one another, making the forms palpably solid.

Finally, in a wonderful display of expressive brush (and knife) work, the background was developed into an energetic abstract foil for the apples, incorporating color notes and gestures that masterfully completed the composition. The painting was auctioned at the end of the meeting, and was proudly won by ----. The proceeds will go toward ANA scholarships.
